Overview

Outlines additional requirements to be verified before a person is properly registered to vote.

History

Current statute outlines the requirements for a resident of Arizona to be qualified to register to vote. A person is qualified to register to vote if the person is:

- 1) A citizen of the United States;
- 2) Will be 18 or more years of age on or before the date of the regular general election following registration;
- 3) Will have been a resident of Arizona 29 days before the election;
- 4) Is able to make a mark or write the person's name, unless prevented from doing so by physical disability;
- 5) Has not been convicted of a felony or treason, unless restored to civil rights; and
- 6) Has not been adjudicated an incapacitated person as defined in statute (A.R.S. § 16-101).

A person is presumed to be properly registered to vote after completing a registration form that contains at least the name, residence address or location, date of birth and the signature or other statement of the registrant and a checkmark or other appropriate indicator that the person answered "yes" to the question regarding citizenship (A.R.S. § 16-121.01).

The United States Election Assistance Commission was established by the Help America Vote Act (HAVA) of 2002. The Commission is a bipartisan, independent commission charged with adopting voluntary voting system guidelines, developing guidance to meet HAVA requirements and serving as a national clearinghouse of information on election administration (U.S. Election Assistance Commission).
